

galileo 270

The Galileo 270 is fully equipped and is manufactured entirely from PVC Polyester. It is a practical awning, offering flexibility in the position of the front door and windows. This feature, coupled with the integral window covers and vents set this awning apart from its competitors.

The front panel is detachable in two/three pieces, and has one/two doors and fixed windows, with covers.

The side panels are also detachable, each featuring a door and a roll down window with mosquito net and cover.
